Handbook and General Information for Parents/Guardians

PROCEDURES AND FORMS

FOR IDENTIFICATION, EVALUATION, AND PLACEMENT UNDER SECTION 504 OF THE REHABILITATION ACT of 1973

2024-2025

Introduction

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, with its subsequent amendments, is a Federal civil rights law that prohibits discrimination against students with disabilities. Section 504 regulations require school districts to provide a free and appropriate public education (“FAPE”) to students with disabilities. This Handbook provides information and guidelines about the implementation of Section 504 by the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools.

The information in this Handbook includes the changes resulting from the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008 and reflects the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools’ ongoing commitment to educating ALL children in accordance with the CMS Board of Education’s vision and mission.

The Law

What is Section 504?

“No otherwise qualified individual with a disability in the United States.... shall, solely by reason of her or his disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance...”

29 U.S.C. § 794(a)

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, with its amendments, is a Federal law that was created to protect the rights of individuals with disabilities in programs and activities that receive Federal financial assistance from the U.S. Department of Education (ED). “An important responsibility of the Office for Civil Rights (OCR) is to eliminate discrimination on the basis of disability against students with disabilities.” “OCR enforces Section 504 in programs and activities that receive Federal financial assistance from ED. Recipients of this Federal financial assistance include public school districts, institutions of higher education, and other state and local education agencies. The regulations implementing Section 504 in the context of educational institutions appear at 34 C.F.R. Part 104.” “OCR also enforces Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act [ADA] of 1990 (Title II) [reauthorized as the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act (ADAAA) of 2008], which extends this prohibition against discrimination to the full range of state and local government services, programs, and activities (including public schools) regardless of whether they receive any Federal financial assistance.” (Protecting Students with Disabilities: FAQ About Section 504 and the Education of Children with Disabilities , pgs. 1 and 2).

A student has a disability under the Section 504 regulations if the student meets any one of the three prongs of eligibility listed in 34 C.F.R. 104.3(j)(2)(i). To be protected under Section 504, a student must be determined to:

- 1) Have a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, 2) Have a record of such an impairment, or
- 3) Be regarded as having such an impairment

The ADAAA did not change the actual language of the three prongs, but it did change how the various phrases used in the three prongs are understood. Congress provided, as part of its rules of construction in the ADAAA, that the definition of disability in this Act shall be construed in favor of broad coverage of individuals under this Act, to the maximum extent permitted by the terms of this Act, and to convey that identifying a qualifying disability should not demand extensive analysis. This statement should guide the school’s Section 504 Team’s evaluation of the potentially eligible student. “In public elementary and secondary schools, unless a student actually has an impairment that substantially limits a major life activity, the mere fact that a student has ‘a record of’ or is ‘regarded as’ disabled is insufficient, in itself, to trigger those Section 504 protections that require the provision of...FAPE.” “The phrases ‘has a record of disability’ and ‘is regarded as disabled’ are meant to address the situation in which a student either does not currently have or never had a disability, but is treated by others as such.” (Protecting Students with Disabilities: FAQ About Section 504 and the Education of Children with Disabilities , Question 36).

Relationship between Section 504 and the ADA/ADAAA

Section 504 and the ADA, amended in 2008 as the ADA Amendments Act, draw on a common definition of disability. Both laws share common eligibility language and a civil rights approach to disability discrimination. The ADAAA is a parallel statute to Section 504, and compliance with Section 504 in schools is the same as compliance with the ADA. Virtually every violation of Section 504 is also a violation of the ADA in the educational arena. If a complainant alleges that the District has violated one statute, OCR will likely investigate for violations of the other statute. The primary difference between these laws is that Section 504 applies only to organizations, programs, and activities that receive Federal funding, whereas the ADA applies to the full spectrum of state and local government agencies, programs, and activities regardless of whether they receive any Federal financial assistance.

Section 504/ADA and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act

Eligibility for protections and services under Section 504 is not the same as eligibility under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), reauthorized in 2004 as the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA), and later amended in 2015 through the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Section 504 provides protection from discrimination for students with disabilities in a general education setting who do not need specially designed instruction. Students covered under IDEIA with an Individualized Education Program (IEP) do not need a separate Section 504 Plan, because students who are covered under IDEIA must have an IEP that addresses both specially designed instruction and any accommodations that would be provided under Section 504. If a student is eligible under the IDEIA, that student must have an IEP.

Responsibilities of CMS under Section 504

In this Handbook, the term “parent” includes guardians and others with the authority to act on behalf of and in the interest of a student.

Under Section 504, school districts have a responsibility to identify, locate, and evaluate individuals who are, or are believed to be, in need of regular or special education and related aids and services designed to meet the student’s educational needs as adequately as the needs of nondisabled students are met. Recipient school districts are required to establish and implement procedural safeguards that include notice, an opportunity for parents to review relevant records, a grievance process that includes a right to an impartial hearing and a review procedure, and a right to retain legal counsel. In addition, Section 504 requires districts to provide notice to parents explaining any evaluation and placement decisions affecting their children and explaining the parents’ right to review educational records and appeal any decision regarding evaluation and placement through an impartial hearing.

Locate and Identify

Conduct Child Find

Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools shall endeavor to locate and identify every individual within the district, who is not receiving a free appropriate public education due to having an unidentified physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. As such, district and school-based Section 504 staff engage in ongoing Child Find activities. District initiatives may include, but are not limited to, providing information to parents, presenting information at school staff meetings, disseminating Child Find information in CMS schools and district offices, and reviewing student information received in the district office. In addition to district-based initiatives, individual schools employ school-based procedures to assist in the identification of students with a suspected disability. Teachers and other staff are obligated to notify the school-based Section 504 Coordinator if they suspect that a student may benefit from an evaluation to determine if additional support may be needed. School-based procedures may include a review of student information upon registration, student absences, academic progress or lack thereof, incident reports due to ongoing behavioral challenges, students who have health concerns, and students who have been exited from special education/Exceptional Children programs.

Individual Healthcare Plan and Emergency Action Plan

School staff must be aware of the relationship between Section 504 and an Individual Healthcare Plan (IHP) or Emergency Action Plan (EAP), and other similar plans such as those for asthma, seizures, and diabetic care. An IHP or an EAP is developed by the school nurse in collaboration with parents and relevant school staff. For students who have an IHP or EAP but no Section 504 Plan, schools must consider whether students with either of these plans or other similar plans might be eligible under Section 504. At the 504 meeting, it is important to include the school nurse and, at times, the school psychologist. These individuals bring a unique perspective to the needs of these students and their medical and/or mental health condition(s).

It is important to determine on an individual basis whether a student with an IHP or EAP has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits a major life activity. It is incorrect to conclude that a student is Section 504-eligible simply based on a diagnosis. There is no diagnosis or impairment that automatically warrants Section 504 eligibility without linkage to a substantial limitation of a major life activity.

Determine Eligibility under Section 504

Definition of Evaluation under Section 504

The Section 504 regulatory provision at 34 C.F.R. 104.35(b) requires school districts to individually evaluate a student before classifying the student as having a disability or providing the student with special education. When considering an individual student's eligibility, the term "evaluation" as it applies to Section 504 means to review information from a variety of sources and, if needed, obtain any additional information so that the possibility of error is minimized. These sources may include aptitude and achievement tests, statewide assessment scores, report cards, teacher recommendations, parent observations, reports of physical condition, health records, mitigating measures, social and cultural background, and adaptive behavior among others (34 C.F.R. 104.35). Should special education data exist (i.e., an evaluation upon which a student was either dismissed from special education or upon which a finding of no IDEA eligibility was made), that data should also be considered. At the elementary and secondary education levels, the amount of information required is determined by the Section 504 Team or multi-disciplinary committee gathered to evaluate the student.

An evaluation under Section 504 does not necessarily mean that an individual must undergo formal testing to determine if the individual meets eligibility criteria. However, if the Section 504 Team determines that formal testing is needed, the Team may request it. "Tests used for this purpose must be selected and administered so as best to ensure that the test results accurately reflect the student's aptitude or achievement or other factor being measured rather than reflect the student's disability, except where those are the factors being measured. Section 504 also requires that tests and other evaluation materials include those tailored to evaluate the specific areas of educational need and not merely those designed to provide a single intelligence quotient. The tests and other evaluation materials must be validated for the specific purpose for which they are used and appropriately administered by trained personnel." (Protecting Students with Disabilities: FAQ About Section 504 and the Education of Children with Disabilities, Question 17)

Based on the review of information, the school's Section 504 Team must address the following questions to determine eligibility:

1. Does the individual have a physical or mental impairment? If yes, identify the impairment(s).
2. Does the physical or mental impairment affect one or more major life activities?

3. Does the physical or mental impairment substantially limit a major life activity?

Physical or Mental Impairments

Section 504 defines physical or mental impairment as:

(A) any physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfigurement, or anatomical loss affecting one or more of the following bodily systems: Neurological; musculoskeletal; special sense organs; respiratory, including speech organs; cardiovascular; reproductive; digestive; genito-urinary; hemic and lymphatic; skin; and endocrine;

or

(B) any mental or psychological disorder, such as mental retardation [intellectual disability], organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness, and specific learning disabilities

Section 504 does not define specific impairments or set forth an exhaustive list of specific diseases or categories that may constitute physical or mental impairments. The definition of physical or mental impairment under Section 504 is broad, including students with life-threatening health conditions that will put a student in danger of death during the school day if medication or treatments are not in place.

Note: Simply having a condition or impairment does not automatically guarantee that an individual is eligible under Section 504.

Substantial Limitation

OCR does not endorse a single formula or scale that measures substantial limitation. “The determination of substantial limitations must be made on a case-by-case basis with respect to each individual student. The Section 504 regulatory provision at 34 C.F.R. 104.35(c) requires that a group of knowledgeable persons draw upon information from a variety of sources in making this determination.” (Protecting Students with Disabilities: FAQ About Section 504 and the Education of Children with Disabilities, Question 21). The ADAAG modified substantial limitation to ensure it reaches a broad spectrum of individuals without the consideration of mitigating measures, such as medications and surgical interventions. Eyeglasses and corrective lenses are an exception to this rule (i.e., Section 504 Teams may consider the ameliorative or positive effects of a student’s eyeglasses or corrective lenses when making eligibility determinations). School Section 504 Teams need to be careful when reviewing student information to include all major life activities impacted and not limit the discussion to just learning.

If a Section 504 Team determines that the physical or mental impairment impacts a major life activity, but the Team is unsure if the impact is substantially limiting, then the student is eligible. In other words, when in doubt as to whether there is a substantial limitation, err on the side of eligibility.

The determination of whether a student has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits a major life activity must be made by the Section 504 Team. The school’s Section 504 Team is defined as a group of persons knowledgeable about: a) the student, b) the meaning of the evaluation data, and c) the placement options (34 C.F.R. 104.35(c) (3)).

Major Life Activities

“The Section 504 regulatory provision’s list of examples of major life activities is not exclusive, and an activity or function not specifically listed in the Section 504 regulatory provision can nonetheless be a major life activity.” (Protecting Students with Disabilities: FAQ About Section 504 and the Education of Children with Disabilities , Question 11).

Mitigating Measures

Congress did not define the term “mitigating measures,” but rather provided a non-exhaustive list for consideration. Mitigating measures may be used by a student to manage or lessen the impact of his or her impairment. Mitigating measures must be disregarded when determining eligibility under Section 504. Therefore, when determining eligibility, the benefits of a mitigating measure must not be considered, and the student must be viewed as if that measure is not available.

Once determined eligible, the Section 504 Team must decide whether a student requires accommodations or supports to receive an equal educational opportunity. The benefits of a mitigating measure may be considered when determining whether a Section 504 Plan is warranted, and if a Plan is warranted, the mitigating measure may be considered when writing the student’s Plan. (Protecting Students with Disabilities: FAQ About Section 504 and the Education of Children with Disabilities , Question 20).

Impairments that are Episodic, in Remission, or Transitory/Temporary

Episodic Impairments

Some students have physical or mental impairments that can vary in frequency and limitation. Conditions such as seasonal allergies or asthma, migraines, sickle cell disease, and rheumatoid arthritis are good examples of impairments that may be substantially limiting at times (in hot weather, when the student is stressed, when irritants or trigger factors are present) and have little impact at other times. Schools commonly qualify students under Section 504 if their condition, though not constant, episodically rises to the level of substantial limitation of a major life activity. Students should not be denied eligibility simply because the disability, at the time eligibility is determined, is not substantially limiting, especially when the school knows from experience that substantial limitation will likely occur. School Section 504 Teams should look carefully at the range of data over a period and not just the student’s current level of performance.

Impairments in Remission

The ADA language on impairments in remission is the same as episodic impairments: “An impairment that is episodic or in remission is a disability if it would substantially limit a major life activity when active.” An example is a student who had cancer that is now in remission. The student would be eligible if the cancer were substantially limiting when it was active in the past.

Transitory/Temporary Impairments

A transitory impairment is an impairment with an actual or expected duration of six (6) months or less. The issue of whether a transitory impairment is substantial enough to be a disability must be resolved on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration both the expected duration of the impairment and the extent to which it actually limits a major life activity of the affected individual. In most cases, basic informal accommodations may be implemented without a Section 504 Plan.

In CMS, a multi-disciplinary team should meet and determine if a student’s impairment meets the criteria for a transitory impairment. If the impairment is considered transitory/temporary, services and accommodations are provided through general education and may not require the student to be eligible under Section 504. For further information about transitory/temporary impairments, please contact your child’s school.

Section 504 Plans

*“Section 504 provides the individual the opportunity to create their desired outcome without discrimination.”
Dave Richards, 2015*

The Section 504 regulations require a school district to provide FAPE to each qualified student with a disability, who is in the school district's jurisdiction, regardless of the nature or severity of the disability. Under Section 504, FAPE consists of the provision of regular or special education and related aids and services designed to meet the student's individual educational needs as adequately as the needs of non-disabled students are met. (34CFR104.33) Eligible Section 504 students may receive accommodations such as preferential seating, unlimited restroom usage, assistance with medication, and test accommodation provisions such as extended time or testing in a small group. The Section 504 Team determines the need for accommodations and which accommodations may benefit the student. Each decision must be made on a case-by-case basis. Accommodations/supports/services should assist the student with having equal access to the general education curriculum and not provide an undue advantage for the student. Accommodations/supports/services can be changed or modified as the student's needs change.

Students with Disabilities Who Do Not Need a Section 504 Plan

As a result of a properly conducted evaluation, if the school district determines that the student does not need accommodations provided by a Section 504 Plan, the district is not required to provide aid or services. “Neither the ... [ADA] nor Section 504 obligates a school district to provide aids or services that the student does not need.” However, the school district must still conduct an evaluation before determining eligibility.

Example: Suppose a student is diagnosed with severe asthma. Asthma is a disability, because it substantially limits the major life activity of breathing and the major bodily function of the respiratory system. However, based on the evaluation, the student does not need any special education or related aids and services because of the disability. This student fully participates in her or his school's regular physical education program, and in extracurricular sports, she or he does not need help administering medicine, and the student does not require any modifications to the school's policies, practices, or procedures. In this case, the school district is not obligated to provide the student with any additional services. Therefore, this student would be eligible under Section 504 but would not need a Section 504 Plan (Questions and Answers on the ADA Amendments Act of 2008 for Students with Disabilities Attending Public Elementary and Secondary Schools, Questions 9 and 11).

If at any time it appears the student may need a Plan , the Section 504 Team must reconvene, discuss the need, and develop a plan if needed.

District-wide Information

Notice of Non-discrimination

The following notice shall appear in student/parent handbooks, teacher's handbooks, non-certified personnel handbooks, and published personnel recruiting materials:

In compliance with Federal Law, Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools administers all education programs, employment activities, and admissions without discrimination against any person on the basis of gender, race, color, religion, national origin, age, or disability.

For further information about CMS' Notice of Non-Discrimination under Section 504 and other laws, please click here.

Bullying/Harassment

Per the Office for Civil Rights' Parent and Educator Resource Guide to Section 504 in Public Elementary and Secondary Schools (p. 32), "Section 504 prohibits disability-based harassment by peers that is sufficiently serious to deny or limit a student's ability to participate in or benefit from the school's education programs and activities (in other words, creates a hostile environment)."¹

Anyone involved, witnessing, or aware of any type of bullying and/or harassment should report the incident using the on-line anonymous bullying reporting platform located on every individual school website, as well as the main CMS web page. The report can be made anonymously, or the reporter may leave their name and contact information. Retaliation for making a report is strictly prohibited under the CMS Regulation JICK-R. For more information, please contact John Concelman at john.concelman@cms.k12.nc.us

Non-academic Services

Qualified students with a disability shall be provided an equal opportunity to engage in counseling services, physical recreation, athletics, transportation, special interest clubs, etc.

For example, qualified students with a disability shall:

- Not automatically be counseled towards certain career objectives more than non-disabled students with similar abilities
- Have an equal opportunity to participate in physical education courses and athletics; although qualified disabled students may participate in separate activities for the disabled, no qualified disabled student shall be denied the opportunity to compete (i.e., tryout) for membership on a team or to participate in courses that are not separate or different.

¹Under Section 504 and Title II, students with disabilities are also protected from bullying or harassment by teachers, other school employees, and third parties. Such bullying can trigger a school's obligation to address disability-based harassment, remedy a denial of FAPE, or both. See 34 C.F.R. § 104.4, 104.33; 28 C.F.R. pt. 35. OCR recommends that States and school districts consult with legal counsel regarding their responsibilities and duties in cases of bullying or harassment that involve school personnel."

Otherwise Qualified

If a person with a disability wants to participate in an activity in which the individual is not otherwise qualified to participate, disallowing participation does not constitute discrimination.

Example: A 16-year-old boy with attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) tries out for the basketball team, but he cannot dribble, shoot, or pass. As a result, the coach does not allow the boy to play on the team. This disallowance is not discrimination under Section 504, because the boy is not otherwise qualified to be on the team.

Service Animals

Use of Service Animals by Students with Disabilities

Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and its regulations require government entities, including public schools, to make reasonable modifications to programs and services to allow access for persons with disabilities. A “service animal,” as defined by the ADA, means any dog (or miniature horse) that is individually trained to work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. Title II provides that a school may exclude a service animal if “the animal would fundamentally alter the nature of the service, program, or activity.”

Examples of work or tasks performed by the service animal include, but are not limited to: Assisting an individual who is blind or who has low vision with navigation; alerting an individual who is deaf or hard of hearing to the presence of people or sounds; pulling a wheelchair; assisting an individual during a seizure; alerting individuals to the presence of allergens; retrieving items; providing physical support and assistance with balance and stability to individuals with mobility impairments; and helping persons with psychiatric and neurological disabilities by preventing or interrupting impulsive or destructive behaviors. Also, refer to CMS’ Policy Code: IMG Service Animals. Note: Pets and therapy animals are not considered service animals and, therefore, are not covered by this regulation.

For additional information about service animals, please contact the Section 504 Department at (980) 343-0001.

Process Steps for the Identification, Evaluation, and Placement of Students under Section 504

Section 504 Procedures

Step 1 — Referring a Concern

When a concern about a student is presented, school staff will work with the parent/guardian to obtain information. Data will be collected from a variety of sources to examine the concern. The concern may address behavioral, medical, physical, and/or emotional well-being that is limiting the child's ability to function at school.

Step 2 — Preparing for the Section 504 Evaluation

If referred to Section 504, the parent/guardian must sign the Notice and Consent for Initial Section 504 Evaluation form and the parent will receive a copy of the Parent/Guardian-Student Rights & Procedural Safeguards before proceeding with a Section 504 evaluation. School staff will collect information from a variety of documented sources to use for eligibility determination and Plan, if needed. When all information is collected, the Section 504 Evaluation meeting is scheduled, and the Notice of Section 504 Meeting form (along with procedural safeguards) is sent to the parent/guardian.

Step 3 — Determining Eligibility under Section 504

The Section 504 team holds a meeting to determine if the student meets eligibility under Section 504 and if a Student Services Plan is needed. During this time, the Section 504 team will review information from a variety of sources and decide if there is enough information to determine eligibility. If the Section 504 team determines the student is eligible, then the team must determine if services and supports are needed. If services are needed, a Section 504 Plan is created. If services are not needed, the team will not create a Plan. However, the student will receive legal protections under Section 504 and continual periodic reviews and monitoring. If a student is deemed not eligible, the parent is provided with a copy of the procedural safeguards and the process is complete.

Step 4 — Developing a Section 504 Plan (If Needed)

Once a student is identified as being eligible under Section 504, a decision is made regarding whether a Section 504 Plan is needed. If a Plan is needed, the Section 504 team determines the type and the extent of services the student needs. The Plan is written to address the student's needs and major life activities and/or major bodily functions in which the student has a substantial limitation with appropriate accommodations. Plans are developed to meet the student's individual educational needs as adequately as the needs of non-disabled students are met. Accommodations are not designed to provide a student an undue advantage.

Step 5 — Implementing the Section 504 Plan

Applicable school staff are notified and presented copies of a student's services under Section 504, i.e., the Section 504 Plan. Staff with direct involvement will be trained as required. School staff must implement services/supports on a student's Plan. If a service or support appears not to be benefitting a student, a meeting should be held to determine if that service/support needs to be removed or replaced.

Step 6 — Monitoring Student Progress

Progress monitoring, review meetings, and 3-year re-evaluations are conducted to monitor the student's progress, determine if the student continues to meet eligibility under Section 504, and/or requires support or additional services. If a student's needs change, the Plan must be revised to reflect the current needs of the student. School staff and/or the student's parent/guardian may request a meeting at any time.

In addition to initial eligibility and review meetings, other meetings may include exit, hospital/homebound placement, and Manifestation Determination Review (MDR) meetings.

School Psychologist Section 504 Evaluations

In CMS, school psychologists may conduct evaluations requested under Section 504 for suspected ADHD, anxiety, and/or depression. You may also contact the CMS school psychologist assigned to your child's school or call the Section 504 Help Desk at 980-343-0001 for further information and guidance.

Related Services

Transportation

Transportation requests are made by the school administrator overseeing transportation or by the Section 504 Department. These requests are made directly through the transportation office. A student may not need a formal Section 504 Plan to arrange transportation on a temporary basis (approximately one month or less).

Nursing Care

Nursing care is provided to Section 504 students with severe medical conditions. An individual health assessment must be conducted prior to the provision of nursing care. This assessment involves an interview with the parents by the school or designated nurse. The evaluation is conducted through a collaboration between CMS and the Mecklenburg County Health Department. Please note the entire process typically takes 3-4 weeks.

Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, & Audiology

Section 504 requires that related services be provided for students with disabilities if these services are essential to meet the student's educational needs. A related service can be provided under Section 504 to children who do not receive any other special education services.

Hospital/Homebound Procedures

The intent of Hospital/Homebound placement is to continue the education of students with severe medical illnesses or issues that prevent them from receiving instruction in the school setting. Hospital/Homebound procedures are designed to allow a student to receive instruction while recovering at home and/or undergoing medical treatment.

After determining eligibility for Hospital/Homebound placement, the school team creates a service plan to support the student during their absence. When designing a Hospital/Homebound plan, consideration is given to the student’s academic needs, length of absence, health concerns, and their ability to receive instruction.

Students enrolled in the EC program must go through the Hospital/Homebound process specifically for special education students. During this process, the student’s general education academic coursework is discussed and, if needed, addressed in the student’s IEP.

Hospital/Homebound Eligibility

To be eligible for Hospital/Homebound placement, the student must:

1. Be enrolled in CMS and reside in Mecklenburg County
2. Have a medical diagnosis preventing full-time school attendance
3. Have current documentation from a current treating healthcare or health services provider that documents the reason(s) for school absence and the anticipated date of return to school

Hospital/Homebound Placement: Procedures for Families

1. A parent/guardian may request that their child be considered for Hospital/Homebound placement by contacting the school-based Section 504 Coordinator or school counselor. The school may also discuss other, less restrictive options that could support the student. Should homebound placement still be requested, the process begins with obtaining a signed Release of Information (English / Spanish) from the student’s parent/guardian. Once this is received, school staff send a Treating Healthcare Provider form to the student’s treating provider(s) for completion. The provider then returns the completed form directly to the Homebound Department.
 1. Upon receipt of this form, the District Section 504/Homebound Office will contact the school to schedule the hospital/homebound meeting. At this time, the school will receive a copy of the completed Treating Healthcare Provider form.
 2. The school will send the following SuccessEd 504 forms to the parent/guardian:
 - Notice and Consent for Initial Section 504 Evaluation
 - Notice of Section 504 Meeting, including the Notice of Rights and Procedural Safeguards

2. The school may use email as an option to provide these forms to the parent/guardian. If emailing, they should use the "Return Receipt" confirmation option as a method of documenting receipt of the notice by the parent/guardian. Additionally, the parent/guardian must be presented with a copy of the Notice of Rights and Procedural Safeguards. This document may be sent via email with the other forms or given to the parent/guardian at the Section 504 meeting. The school must document that the parent/guardian has received the above documents.

3. The Section 504 Team, which includes parents/guardians, meets to review medical documentation regarding the student potentially being served in the hospital/homebound or partial day setting. Based on all available and relevant information, the Section 504 Team determines whether the hospital/homebound setting is the student's least restrictive environment and is appropriate for the student at that time.

Pregnant Students Who are Identified as a Student with a Disability

Because pregnancy is not the result of a physiological disorder, it would not be considered an impairment under Section 504. However, complications from the pregnancy could be considered a temporary disability if it limits one or more of the major life activities for an extended period of time.

The CMS Board policy for pregnant and parenting students, S-PPAR, is linked here.

Accommodations and Testing Guidelines

Accommodations

Overview

The purpose of student services plans under Section 504 is to provide equal educational opportunity and access for students with disabilities. Accommodations allow students with disabilities to have equal access to their learning environment, manage a medical condition, participate in class activities, and demonstrate their level of mastery of concepts without being impeded by their disability. Accommodations should be written so that the integrity of the course content is maintained. Accommodations needed to manage a medical condition should allow the student opportunities to take care of his/her condition. Accommodations must not provide an undue advantage for the student, and they should not pose an undue hardship on the institution.

Once the Section 504 Team identifies a student as eligible, appropriate accommodations and supports are written into a student's Section 504 Plan. While there are accommodations that are commonly used to address and manage specific conditions, each student's individual needs must be considered when choosing the appropriate accommodations. Chosen accommodations must address the student's specific areas of need as related to the student's disability. The Section 504 team should consider if there is a documented need for the accommodations or supports that are chosen.

Accommodations listed on a student's Section 504 Plan should be routinely monitored for effectiveness. Any accommodations that are not effective should be revised or eliminated from the student's Section 504 Plan through a Section 504 Team meeting.

Testing

For a testing accommodation to be used for state-mandated tests, the accommodation should be "routinely used" in the classroom and documented in the Section 504 Plan. Best practice suggests that testing accommodations be in place and documented at least 30 school days prior to any state-mandated testing. Testing accommodations should not be developed for state testing if there is no documented need for these supports.

Testing accommodations should in no way alter the content of the assessment or interfere with the integrity of the test construct. In addition, school tests completed with accommodations should be graded the same way as those completed without accommodations.

Discipline and Section 504 Students

Discipline and Section 504 Students

The discipline of a student recognized as having a disability involves certain procedures and protections. Please see the CMS Parent Student Handbook (click on the link) for the additional procedural safeguards to be followed for students with disabilities. Manifestation Determination Review General Overview

Section 504 protects students with disabilities from being improperly removed from school for misconduct that is caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, the student's disability. During this process, Section 504 Teams consider the student's documented disability, as well as the details of the specific incident, to determine whether the misconduct was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, the student's disability. In addition, the Team determines whether the misconduct was the direct result of the District's (school's) failure to implement the student's Section 504 Plan. This type of evaluation is commonly called a Manifestation Determination Review or MDR.

If a student's misconduct is determined to be a manifestation of his/her disability, CMS is legally prohibited from implementing a disciplinary action that constitutes a significant change in the student's placement. If a disabled student's misconduct is determined NOT to be a manifestation of his/her disability, CMS may discipline the student in the same manner as students without disabilities.

Under Section 504, the District is not required to provide a student with disabilities educational services during the time he or she is properly removed from school for disciplinary reasons. However, students who are long-term suspended or expelled must be provided the same access to services that are available to non-disabled students, including access to re-entry programs.

Overall, a Manifestation Determination Review is held when a school plans to give a student an out-of-school suspension (OSS) that may be fewer than ten (10) days but, when combined with previous suspension days in the current school year, would exceed ten (10) days of OSS.

Manifestation Determination Review Meeting

A manifestation determination review meeting is needed when a student's placement may be significantly changed by disciplinary action because of his/her misconduct. Usually, a short-term OSS of ten (10) days or less does not constitute a significant change in the student's placement. Therefore, an MDR is not necessary when a student's suspension is deemed a short-term suspension, as this would not constitute a significant change of placement.

An MDR meeting is essentially an evaluation that answers two questions:

1. Was the conduct in question caused by, or directly and substantially related to, the student's disability?

To answer this question, the Section 504 Team must consult several sources of evaluation data, which are related to the student's behavior and disability. The data must be recent enough to afford an understanding of the student's current behavioral functioning.

The misconduct is a manifestation of a student's disability if the conduct in question has a "direct and substantial relationship to the disability."

The misconduct in question is not a manifestation of the student's disability if the conduct in question does not have a direct and substantial relationship to the disability.

2. Was the conduct in question the direct result of the school's (District's) failure to implement the Section 504 Plan, if there was such failure?

The Section 504 Team must review the student's current Section 504 Plan to ensure if all accommodations were implemented with fidelity. If it is determined the accommodations were not implemented with fidelity, the misconduct in question would be considered: a) a failure to implement the Section 504 Plan, and b) a manifestation of the student's disability.

Procedural Safeguards under Section 504

School districts are required to establish and implement procedural safeguards with respect to actions regarding the identification, evaluation, and educational placement of a student with a disability. Procedural safeguards include:

- NoticeAn opportunity for parents to review relevant records
- An impartial hearing with an opportunity for participation by the student’s parent and representation by counsel
- A review procedure

Notice

School districts are charged with the ongoing duty to notify individuals of the District’s policy to not discriminate based on a disability. Notification may include, but is not limited to, posters, brochures, handouts in school packets, and community publications. Included in these notifications is how and whom to contact for more information or to report a violation.

Notice of rights under Child Find also includes individual notice to parents of students where there is suspicion of a disability. Parents have the right to be notified by the district of any action regarding the identification, evaluation, or placement of a student. Parents of students who have accrued absences, have health-related needs, behavior concerns, or have difficulty accessing the school campus should be contacted to discuss concerns. If a school is considering Section 504 eligibility, a parent must always receive written notice prior to any meeting to discuss the student’s educational supports or a change of placement. To not provide written notice to a parent may constitute a procedural violation.

Opportunity to Review Records

Under Section 504 and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), parents have the right to review relevant records of their child. CMS Policy Code: JRA Student Records has information concerning this procedure.

A Review Procedure

Districts are required to provide a review procedure to ensure that a Section 504 due process hearing was conducted correctly and aligned with the District’s procedures. This request must be made within 30 calendar days after the hearing officer renders the findings on the complaint.

Notice of Rights & Procedural Safeguards for Disabled Students and their Parents Under §504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973

The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, commonly known in schools as "Section 504," is a Federal law passed by the United States Congress with the purpose of prohibiting discrimination against disabled persons who may participate in, or receive benefits from, programs receiving federal financial assistance. In the public schools specifically, §504 applies to ensure that eligible disabled students are provided with educational benefits and opportunities equal to those provided to non-disabled students.

Under §504, a student is considered "disabled" if he or she suffers from a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. Section 504 also protects students with a record of an impairment, or who are regarded as having an impairment, from discrimination on the basis of disability. Students can be considered disabled and can receive services under §504, including regular or special education and related aids and services, even if they do not qualify for, or receive, special education services under the IDEA.

The purpose of this Notice is to inform parents and students of the rights granted them under §504. The federal regulations that implement §504 are found at Title 34, Part 104 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) and entitle eligible students and their parents to the following rights:

1. You have a right to be informed about your rights under §504. [34 CFR 104.32] The School District must provide you with written notice of your rights under §504 (this document represents written notice of rights as required under §504).
2. Under §504, your child has the right to a free appropriate public education designed to meet his or her educational needs as adequately as the needs of non-disabled students are met. [34 CFR 104.33]. You have the right to refuse consent for services at any time.
3. Your child has the right to free appropriate educational services, with the exception of certain costs normally also paid by the parents of nondisabled students. Insurance companies and other similar third parties are not relieved of any existing obligation to provide or pay for services to a student that becomes eligible for services under §504. [34 CFR 104.33].
4. To the maximum extent appropriate, your child has the right to be educated with children who are not disabled. Your child will be placed in and educated in a regular classroom environment unless the District demonstrates that his or her educational needs cannot be adequately met in the regular classroom setting, even with the use of supplementary aids and services. [34 CFR 104.34].
5. Your child has the right to services, facilities, and activities comparable to those provided to non-disabled students. [34 CFR 104.34].
6. The School District must undertake an evaluation of your child prior to determining his or her appropriate educational placement or program of services under §504, and before every subsequent significant change in placement. [34 CFR 104.35]. You have the right to refuse consent for initial evaluation.
7. The District will appropriately consider information from a variety of sources in making its determinations, including, for example: Aptitude and achievement tests, teacher recommendations, reports of physical condition, social and cultural background, adaptive behavior, health records, report cards, progress notes, parent observations, statewide assessment scores, and mitigating measures, among others. [34 CFR 104.35]. If formal assessment instruments are used as part of an evaluation, procedures used to administer assessments and other instruments must comply with the requirements of §504 regarding test validity, proper method of administration, and appropriate test selection. [34 CFR 104.35].
8. Placement decisions regarding your child must be made by a group of persons (a §504 team) knowledgeable about your child, the meaning of the evaluation data, possible placement options, and the requirement that to the maximum extent appropriate, disabled children should be educated with non-disabled children. [34 CFR 104.35]. If your child is eligible under §504, he or she has a right to periodic reevaluations. [34 CFR 104.35]. A reevaluation must take place at least every three years.

9. You have the right to be notified by the District prior to any action regarding the identification, evaluation, or placement of your child. [34 CFR 104.36]

10. You have the right to examine relevant documents and records regarding your child (generally documents relating to identification, evaluation, and placement of your child under §504). [34 CFR 104.36]

11. You also have a right to present a grievance or complaint through the District's informal grievance process. The District will investigate the situation, take into account the nature of the complaint and all necessary factors, and respond appropriately to you within a reasonable time. Parents may contact the District's Section 504 Coordinator for more information about the District's grievance process.

You have the right to an impartial due process hearing if you wish to contest any action of the District with regard to your child's identification, evaluation, or placement under §504. [34 CFR 104.36]. You have the right to participate personally at the hearing, and to be represented by an attorney if you wish to hire one.

If you wish to contest an action taken by the §504 Team by means of an impartial due process hearing, you must submit the required notice or request in writing to the District's §504 Coordinator at the address below within 30 calendar days of the action or omission giving rise to your complaint.

Failure to make a timely request may result in the loss of your opportunity to pursue a due process hearing on that action or omission. A date will be set for the hearing and an impartial hearing officer will be appointed. You will then be notified in writing of the hearing date, time, and place.

If you disagree with the decision of the hearing officer, you have a right to seek a review of the decision. [34 CFR 104.36]. You also have the right to seek relief in state or federal court as allowed by law.

You also have a right to file a complaint with the Office for Civil Rights (OCR) of the Department of Education. The address of the OCR Regional Office that covers this school district is:

Director, Office for Civil Rights, Region U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202•1475
Telephone: (202) 453 • 6020
Telephone 2: (202) 453 • 6021

You and your child have the right to be free from retaliation for the exercise of the student's rights under §504. If it is determined that retaliation has occurred, corrective action will be taken.

CMS Grievance Procedure

CMS has a written grievance (complaint) procedure providing for prompt and equitable resolution of complaints.

The grievance procedure is intended to address identification, evaluation, and placement issues, as well as claims of harassment, discrimination, and lack of accessible facilities.

As part of an informal approach to complaint resolutions, CMS wants parents, guardians, and students to have the opportunity to make concerns known and for CMS to have the opportunity to respond and resolve concerns within a reasonable time. Only the parent, legal custodian, or person acting in loco parentis for a student may attend and/or represent the student during this process. A parent is not entitled to legal representation at the informal stages of the grievance procedure. These procedures are not intended to be adversarial in nature.

Filing a discrimination complaint is a protected activity. Retaliation against any individual because he or she reported Section 504 violation(s) or made a complaint, testified, assisted with, or participated in Section 504 investigations, proceedings, or hearings, is prohibited. Coercion, intimidation, threats, or interference with anyone, because he or she exercised Section 504 rights or helped or encouraged someone else to do so, is prohibited.

CMS will make appropriate arrangements to ensure that disabled persons are provided other accommodations, if needed, to participate in this grievance process. Such arrangements may include, but are not limited to, providing interpreters for the deaf, providing recordings of the material for the blind, or assuring a barrier-free location for the proceedings. The Section 504 Program Manager will be responsible for such arrangements.

The internal grievance process is optional and not required to request an impartial due process hearing or file a complaint with the Office for Civil Rights.

The procedure for filing an internal grievance within CMS is listed on the next page. Contact the Section 504 Manager, Benjamin Bender, at 980-343-0589 to obtain a copy of the grievance form.

CMS Grievance Procedure - Level 1

1. An individual or parent with a complaint is encouraged to first discuss the concern with the principal at the student's school within 20 school days after the individual becomes aware of the alleged violation.
2. If a complaint is initially received by the Section 504 Department, the parent will be referred to the school principal to discuss the complaint.
3. The principal schedules a meeting within ten (10) school days with the parent to discuss the concern and determine a resolution.
4. If the parent accepts the proposed resolution made by the school, the principal or designee notifies the Section 504 Department after the meeting and the process is complete.
5. If the parent rejects the proposed resolution from the principal or there was a lack of timely response after submitting a complaint to the principal or designee, the parent is provided with a CMS Section 504 Grievance Form located on the CMS Website. This form must be submitted to the District Section 504 Manager within 20 school days of meeting with the principal or designee. If a timely response was not made by the school, submit the form as soon as possible.

This process will be completed within a reasonable amount of time of receipt of the document.
2. If the parent accepts the proposed resolution made by the district, the process is complete, and the accepted resolution may not be appealed.
3. If the parent rejects the proposed resolution at the district level, the parent may choose to request an impartial hearing. The request for an impartial hearing must be made within 10 calendar days of the date of the District Section 504 Department's grievance response.
4. The parent may file a complaint with the Office for Civil Rights at any time during this process.

Guidelines for Section 504 Due Process Hearings

Selection of a Hearing Officer

The District Section 504 Program Manager shall select a hearing officer for the adjudication of the dispute.

Procedures Governing the Due Process Hearing

- All hearing procedures will be held before an impartial hearing officer.
- The individual or parent (or his/her representative) shall have the opportunity to examine, before the start of the proceedings, all relevant materials.
- The individual or parent shall have the right to secure assistance, at their expense, including, but not limited to, attorneys, health professionals, or any other person beneficial to the presentation of the case. If the individual or parent has secured the assistance of an attorney, the parent must notify the CMS Section 504 Department immediately. Failure to do so may delay proceedings.
- The hearing shall be held in private.
- The individual or parent has the right to present all pertinent evidence.
- The decision of the hearing officer shall only be based on facts presented at the time of the hearing and relevant to the concern filed with the Section 504 Department.

Failure to Appear for the Hearing

If either party requests a continuance, the hearing officer may postpone the hearing date if a mutually agreed upon date and time can be reached by both parties and the hearing officer. If either party fails to appear for the scheduled hearing day, the hearing officer, in his or her discretion, may continue the matter or find against the party who fails to appear. This determination does not affect the party's rights to pursue any other legal process available.

Decision of the Hearing Officer

The hearing officer must issue a written decision of the hearing within ten (10) business days and furnish a copy to all parties. A copy must be kept on file with the Section 504 Department. If the individual or parent disagrees with the hearing officer's decision, this will be considered a final administrative decision and is appealable in accordance with 115C-45(c). The hearing officer cannot award monetary compensation.

An individual or parent may request a review of the due process hearing by contacting the Section 504 Department within 10 calendar days of the hearing officer's decision.
