What is a Title I school?

Title I is the largest federally funded educational program. A Title I school is a school receiving federal funds for students. The basic principle of Title I is that schools with large concentrations of low-income students receive supplemental funds to meet students' educational goals.

What does it mean to be a Title I School?

- Being a Title I school means receiving federal funding (Title I dollars) to supplement the school's existing programs. These dollars are used for the following:
 - Identifying students experiencing academic difficulties and providing timely assistance to help students meet the state's challenging content standards.
 - Purchasing supplemental staff/programs/materials/supplies
 - Conducting parent and family engagement meetings/trainings/activities
 - Recruiting/Hiring/Retaining Highly-Qualified Teachers
- Being a Title I school also means encouraging ongoing parent and family engagement and advocating for parents' rights

How are Title I funds used in our school?

At Rama Road, we utilize $200,129.56 in Title I funds for:

- One full time Multilanguage Learner teacher
- Two BMTs (Behavior Modification Technicians)
- One full time Spanish Interpreter and Translator
- Three Expanded Impact Teachers
- Parent Involvement
- Professional Development for staff
- Substitutes for staff professional development
- Supplies and materials (books, technology)

What is the 1% set-aside and how are parents involved?

- Any Local Education Agency (LEA) or school district with a Title I Allocation exceeding $500,000 is required by law to set aside 1% of the Title I allocation for parent and family engagement. At Rama Road, this amount of funding is $3904.56 and is used to purchase homework agendas for all students in Grades K-5 to be used between home and school as a communication vehicle.
- This year, Rama Road Elementary has also purchased Monthly Literacy Newsletters for families to support student literacy skill practice at home.
