IV. Principal Report - Becky Crawford –

Celebrations: Thank you for Thanksgiving bread – it is a HUGE hit with our staff and their families. Gearing up for fun filled December: winter parties on 19th Grinch/Polar Express on 20th, Spirit Week (voted on by Student Council) last week before break; Turkey costume with kids' voting was a big success; finished the t shirt sales to help Western NC – will work on advertising that and delivering the proceeds;

Coming up: Gearing up for MOY testing: Dibels, iReady, MVPA; we will be looking at data and creating plans to adjust instruction and meet student needs a.) New Building Presentation- on website under Bond Projects (video and PPT) = new elementary school on the Park Road Site; Becky shared the PPT from the meeting; there was a lot of discussion about the field and how to access that field in the meeting; Becky has asked for trees to be planted in a different location to allow for more outside play space; double line of carpool line; Pre-K classrooms (2) have a little play space outside their area; asked for a cover to help with carpool; the new renderings have the school colors which was something Becky requested; media center space will accommodate staff meetings; sound boards in cafeteria will help with noise; there is an interesting open space that may be able to have tables and colorful chairs but will need to wait and see; upstairs have smaller classrooms, so no tutor rooms; classrooms will still have the counter, cubbies, etc. Light wood with more modern furniture. Phil asked about having adjustable basketball goals for different heights. Ashley asked about the timeline. Becky said the fence is up and the excavator is digging. Becky will touch base with Dennis before leaving for winter break.

b.) Title IX – instances of students putting hands on each other's private parts. These are inappropriate touching, not Title IX incidents because they are not sexual in nature, but we are having to have conversations with students about being appropriate and not touching where the bathing suit covers.

V. Parent Business - No new business

VI. PTA Update - Nicole Vourlas-Davis / PTA President – New shirts have been a big focus; Veterans Day was an enormous success. Becky shared the positive feedback that the veterans have shared with her. They loved the book (a new component to the day). Some of the veterans put together PPT presentations which were fun for students to see.

VII. Next Meeting Date - January 17, 2024

VIII. Adjourned Time – 7:30 AM
